THE MOST HOLY TRINITY SUNDAY YEAR C

This week we return to the liturgical season of Ordinary Time. This Sunday and next Sunday, however, are designated as solemnities, special days that call our attention to central mysteries of our faith. Today, on the first Sunday after Pentecost, we celebrate the Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity. This feast invites us to consider what we believe about God, who has revealed himself to us in the Trinity—one God in three persons.

In today's first reading, wisdom is personified. She is both God the Creator, and at the same time, the witness to creation. In other words, we are reminded that it is only the Trinitarian God that can comprehend and explain Himself. As humans, we only share or participate in God's wisdom. Hence, ours is limited while God's is absolute.

In the second reading, Paul tells us that: "The love of God is poured into our hearts by the Holy Spirit." Christ is the fullness of God's love. From this, we have some insight about what this union of the three divine persons looks like. Each of them do their work, yet they remain one and undivided.

Today's gospel makes this unity clear. Each and every one of them bears witness to the same word and truth. Each affirms and confirms the work of the other. They do not contradict one another. They are not separated by time or space, because their project is one and the same. Also, they share the same glory.

The Church invites us today to reflect on the incredible mystery that is one God in three persons. As we gather on this feast, we should ask ourselves: What do I believe about God? What kind of God do I believe in? How authentic are my relationships

Finally, today we must learn from the three divine persons how to love and respect one another. This also means, complimenting and appreciating the efforts of one another. If we live in harmony as the Most Holy Trinity, then: "The greatness of the name of the Lord will be made known through all the earth" (Ps 8:2).
